SO MUCH MORE THAN A REGULATORY SERVICE PROVIDER ...

Although ARCHE Consulting provides regulatory support to his clients all over the world we distinguish ourselves by not only covering the basic compliance process but also by paving the way forward with a pro-active attitude. This is reflected by the fact that our experts are hold in high esteem within the regulatory community and have been frequently solicited to draft guidance documents and provide training.

Our long-term engagement towards our clients are:

- ▷ Providing solutions to complex problems in a timely manner
 - ▷ Giving local support but think globally
 - ▷ Create added value.

ARCHE Consulting's expertise covers different chemical legislative frameworks such as REACH, Biocides, Classification and Labeling (CLP/GHS), Plant Protection Products etc.. Next to preparing registration dossiers we ensure companies achieving compliance and provide proper training of your regulatory teams on the ever evolving aspects of those chemical legislations challenging your business.

CAN WE HELP YOU?

REACH implementation ... shifting gears

With the looming 2018 deadline for 1-100 tonnes substances ECHA moves forward with implementing REACH impacting companies at all levels of the organization. Assisting in more than 450 successful registrations ARCHE Consulting is well placed to help you in updating all of your REACH files, meeting your REACH 2018 deadlines, support and audit the compliance status of your sites, streamlining communication through your supply chain (eSDS) and giving technical support in case your substance is under ECHA's scrutiny (evaluation, authorization, restriction).

Biocides and Plant Protection products ... your ARCH between regulations and market certainty

The Biocidal Products Regulation N°528/2012 and the Plant Protection Products Regulation N°1107/2009 impose a heavy burden on active substance manufactures and formulators. ARCHE Consulting has a dedicated team of experts helping you from the early stages in the process giving strategic advice, offering support in compiling complete dossiers and guiding you in obtaining authorizations hereby ensuring that your products can remain on the market and creating accessibility to new products.

Pop 'quiz' ... let us train you

Upcoming chemical regulations and constantly evolving guidance documents makes it difficult for a company to ensure it has the same level playing field as its competitors. ARCHE Consulting has a team of certified trainers that can help your regulatory staff get up to speed with the latest changes that could affect the way you do business. With hands-on training and your business as a case study ARCHE Consulting's experts can help you in removing regulatory hurdles in a cost-effective way.

COMMITTED TO RESULTS ...

"IMOA has worked for several years with the scientists working at ARCHE Consulting and they have proved for IMOA/MoCon to be a very wise investment. We can therefore highly recommend ARCHE Consulting with regard to their technical expertise and knowledge on environmental issues (aquatic and terrestrial), organisation of research projects and data interpretation. ARCHE Consulting worked with numerous metal consortia for REACH and is widely recognized by the metals industry as the experts in their field"- Sandra Carey, HSE executive, International Molybdenum Association.

ICL-IP has been working with ARCHE Consulting over the last couple of years on several projects related to REACH, including preparation of dossiers and exposure scenario's. We are very satisfied with them, mainly due to the high quality of work, in-house expertise, rapid response to queries, short communication lines and good price-quality ratio. Therefore, ARCHE Consulting is highly recommended by us for projects related to REACH"- Sander Kroon- ICL-IP Europe.

"Spotless Group Belgium is using the services of ARCHE Consulting since 2013 for several regulatory issues on biocidal products for the Belgian market. Additionally ARCHE Consulting provides consulting advice in various European issues. We are very satisfied about the cooperation with ARCHE Consulting. The rapid response to ad hoc questions from the client is experienced as very positive. ARCHE Consulting is able to turn very difficult issues into clear answers and advice that can be put into practice immediately."- Arnoud Jol, Marketing Manager Benelux & Scandinavia, Spotless Group
