

Regulatory Human Toxicologist (m/f/x)

The company

ARCHE Consulting is based in Belgium and has offices in Ghent and Leuven. ARCHE Consulting provides regulatory support in different chemical legislative frameworks such as REACH, Biocides, Plant Protection Products, Classification and Labeling (CLP/GHS), Cosmetics etc., to a wide range of clients. As a trusted advisor we help them transforming their current product portfolio in alignment with the concepts embedded in the new Chemicals Strategy for Sustainability as announced in the European Green Deal.

Learn more about ARCHE Consulting at <http://www.arche-consulting.be>

To support the continued growth of ARCHE Consulting dealing with chemical and product health, safety and environmental programs of corporations from varied industrial sectors we are looking for a Regulatory Human Toxicologist (m/f/x) who would like to join our team in Ghent/or Leuven (Belgium).

Job description:

The jobholder will be part of an expert team dealing with several chemical legislations (REACH, Biocides, Plant Protection products etc.). As a Regulatory Human Toxicologist you will be responsible for:

- Providing specialist scientific advice and assist in dossier preparation for several chemical legislations in the EU,
- Remaining aware of regulatory guidance,
- Communicating with clients and regulatory authorities if necessary.

Your Profile:

- Minimum qualifications for this position include,
- Masters degree or PhD in industrial hygiene, toxicology, pharmacology, or related fields,
- Proven track record with basic concepts in human health hazard and risk assessments of chemicals and products,

- Experience with one of the following registration procedures: Biocides (agrochemicals / pesticides/REACH) is a plus,
- Strong technical and data evaluation skills,
- Outstanding oral and written communication skills,
- Fluent in English and Dutch. A good command of other European languages is a plus.

What do we offer:

- Competitive and flexible salary complemented with additional 'flex income plan',
- Flexible and dynamic work environment,
- Healthy work-life balance (e.g. partial working from home),
- Attractive company culture (monthly breakfast; weekly sport; yearly teambuilding activities and kids day),
- Internal and external training opportunities (e.g. conferences; training courses),
- International dimension,
- Extra benefits: group insurance (pension plan), bonus encouragement system, hospitalization insurance,
- Career development support,
- Holidays (20 + 12 days).

We are seeking team members in our office in Gent or Leuven who desire to work on diverse and challenging projects. We need individuals with the ability to communicate effectively with internal staff and external clients and management. We look for a strong work ethic, positive attitude and people who like to have fun with their work and team.

Are you motivated to work in a fast growing company aiming at creating a healthier and safer environment together with the best working conditions for its people, than we are looking forward to receiving your application sent by mail to info@arche-consulting.be